EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Anthony Zelano on January 9, 2004.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS:

Cancel withdrawn claims 22 and 23.

Replace claim 1 with the following:

- 1. A method to release viruses from animal cells containing said viruses, comprising subjecting the cells to continuous centrifugation under conditions effective to concentrate the cells into a cell pellet, and ejecting the pelleted cells from the centrifuge through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle, under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and to release said viruses from said cells.--

Replace claim 19 with the following:

- 19. In a method of releasing intracellular viruses from cells containing said viruses by continuous centrifugation, the improvement comprising harvesting viruses directly from a cell pellet formed by said centrifugation by ejecting said pelleted cells through one or more ejection outlets, under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation.--

Replace claim 20 with the following:

--20. A method to prepare a cell lysate, consisting of subjecting cells to continuous centrifugation to form a cell pellet, and ejecting said pelleted cells through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and to form a cell lysate.--

Replace claim 21 with the following:

--21. A method to prepare a cell lysate, comprising subjecting cells to continuous centrifugation under conditions effective to concentrate the cells into a cell pellet, and ejecting the pelleted cells from the centrifuge through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and to form a cell lysate.--

Replace claim 24 with the following:

--24. A method to release viruses from animal cells containing said viruses, comprising
subjecting the cells to continuous centrifugation under conditions effective to concentrate the cells into a cell pellet, and

ejecting the pelleted cells from the centrifuge through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle, under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and to release said virus from said cells.--

Replace claim 26 with the following:

--26. (Currently Amended) A method to release viruses from animal cells containing said viruses, consisting essentially of

subjecting the cells to continuous centrifugation under conditions effective to concentrate the cells into a cell pellet, and

ejecting the pelleted cells from the centrifuge through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle, under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and release said viruses from said cells.--

Replace claim 27 with the following:

--27. A method to release an intracellular organism, or an intracellular organelle or biological molecule, from host cells containing said organism, organelle or biological molecule, comprising

subjecting the cells to continuous centrifugation under conditions effective to concentrate the cells into a cell pellet, and

ejecting the pelleted cells from the centrifuge through one or more ejection outlets into a collection receptacle, under conditions effective to lyse said cells solely by exertion of forces generated by said centrifugation and to release said organism, intracellular organelle or biological molecule from said cells.--

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1, 4-21 and 24-30 as amended are allowed. The claims were amended in order to clarify the method steps. As amended, the claims are drawn to a method of releasing virus (or other components) or forming cell lysates comprising forming a cell pellet by continuous centrifuge, then lysing the pelleted cells as they are ejected from the centrifuge, thereby releasing their contents. The forces by which the cells are ejected and consequently lysed, are solely forces generated by centrifugation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
